

DESIGN
obsessions

"Lindsey Adelman designs light fixtures with mixed materials to create dramatic visual contrast. Inspired by Japanese buoys and shibori, this sconce is made with handblown glass globes and bound together with knotted rope."

Knotty Bubbles sconce, from $2,700, by Lindsey Adelman at The Future Perfect, 3085 Sacramento St., San Francisco, thefutureperfect.com

"Head Over Heels is my go-to boutique when my closet needs a refresh. I'm coveting this Jonathan Simkhai top and the matching skirt for summer. The look is elegant yet understated, with Italian macramé detailing and patterned sheer panels."

Mechanical flare top, $445, and skirt (not shown), $795, by Jonathan Simkhai at Head Over Heels, 887 Santa Cruz Ave., Menlo Park, headoverheels.us

"This textured watercolor wallcovering from Phillip Jeffries creates visual depth. The softness of the digitally printed flowers combined with the natural striae of the hemp ground would wrap any room with an interesting story."

Bloom wallcovering, to the trade, by Phillip Jeffries at De Sousa Hughes, 2 Henry Adams St., Ste. 220, San Francisco, desousahughes.com

"Gypsy Water is the type of scent that will instantly become your signature. It subtly and smoothly transitions from outdoorsy juniper, pine needles and citrus to a creamy vanilla and sandalwood. The scent is warm and dreamy, and the curved bottle is beautifully sleek and simple."

Gypsy Water eau de parfum, 50 ml for $150, at byredo.com

NEUTRAL TERRITORY

For Peninsula interior designer Amanda Teal (amandatealdesign.com), natural hues and elements have a timeless quality. Hence, these are the items—from the decorative to the sartorial—that are on her wish list.

By Anh-Minh Le // Portrait by Sue Hudelson

"Sheldon Ceramics makes the most exquisite pottery. It's like functional artwork. Each piece is hand-thrown using all natural materials and homemade glazes. This bowl has long graceful lines and a layered finish."

White & Blue stoneware bowl, $250, at sheldonderamics.com